Good news here at the Galilean. We are no longer livestreaming using a card table, step ladder and numerous extension cords, thanks in part to the $1,000 grant that was received from The Synod of The Trinity.

We have since purchased a quality camera, computer, mounted new speakers in the front of the sanctuary and installed internet cabling and 110-volt wiring to operate our new equipment from the balcony of our sanctuary. We were able to do the installation of the speakers and wiring with volunteer labor by members of the congregation. We are much grateful for that.

We have since been having our services on Facebook, YouTube and in-person worship. In our livestreaming efforts, we have found that not only are we able to maintain a semblance of worship with those who are not able to attend, we have also been reaching people in the nearby community and even in other states. Taking the Good News of Jesus far beyond the walls of The Galilean.

Sincerely,
